

BIOMEDICAL SCIENCE FOR THE BENEFIT OF SOCIETY

“Data Coordination Manager”

Centre for Genomic Regulation (CRG)

The Institute

The Centre for Genomic Regulation (CRG) is an international biomedical research institute of excellence, based in Barcelona, Spain, with more than 400 scientists from 44 countries. The CRG is composed by an interdisciplinary, motivated and creative scientific team which is supported both by a flexible and efficient administration and by high-end and innovative technologies.

In April 2021, the Centre for Genomic Regulation (CRG) received the renewal of the 'HR Excellence in Research' Award from the European Commission. This is a recognition of the Institute's commitment to developing an HR Strategy for Researchers, designed to bring the practices and procedures in line with the principles of the European Charter for Researchers and the Code of Conduct for the Recruitment of Researchers (Charter and Code).

Please, check out our Recruitment Policy

The role

We invite applications for a Data Coordination Manager for the ImpactT2D project, which analyzes whole genome sequences and phenotypic data from a large sequence cohort of patients with type 2 diabetes. ImpactT2D aims to develop transformative approaches for personalized medicine in type 2 diabetes.

The new team member will develop Data Coordination Center activities such as organization and coordination of data management, preparation and analysis while considering FAIR principles and eventual submission to the EGA. He or she will contribute to the work to be developed in the frame of this project, especially in the management of genomic, phenotypic and clinical data. In addition, will contribute to improve features of the EGA archive, with the aim to provide always a better service to the EGA user community in the vision of IMPaCT program.

About the team

The successful candidate will work in the European Genome-phenome Archive \(EGA\) team. EGA is a service for secure archiving and sharing of all types of personally identifiable genetic and phenotypic data resulting from biomedical studies and healthcare centres. Jointly managed by the Centre for Genomic Regulation \(CRG\) in Barcelona the European Bioinformatics Institute \(EBI\) in Cambridge (UK), the EGA provides an invaluable service to the worldwide biomedical research community. The two teams, even if geographically split, collaborate on daily basis. The EGA team at the CRG is composed of nearly 20 members coming from all around the globe and with diverse professional expertise: we have helpdesk officers, system administrators, bioinformatics, IT architects, web developers and project managers. All together, we are involved in several international projects in numerous scientific fields, where we bring our expertise in human genomic data management. Furthermore, our team continuously work to improve and to deploy new services, with the goal of adding value to the huge assets that EGA is responsible of.
