

European Logistics Director

A small pharmaceutical group, specialised in micro-immunotherapy medicines, based in Spain and Belgium is searching for its European Logistics Director.

The mission would be to assure that our medicines are available for patients, respecting GDPs, while building solid relationships with pharmacies and distributors across Europe and the world.

Tasks

- Rethink the logistics system from efficient to effective.
- Build a BtoB high quality distribution experience.
- Coordinate and maintain the IT logistics infrastructure for an efficient service.
- Manage a 5 person team in Belgium and in Spain.
- Understand the needs of doctors and pharmacists in a challenging sector to implement culturally diverse solutions.
- Coordinate with actions of the communication and marketing teams for German, French, Flemish and Spanish speaking areas.

Skills

- Proven organisational skills
- Computer project management
- Knowledge of CRM
- People management skills
- Cultural sensitivity
- Fluent in French and Spanish, with professional english. German would be very valuable.
- Produce regular sales statistics

Training

Bachelor's or Master's degree in Business, Logistics, Operations, Engineering, a related field or equivalent practical experience.

Location

The candidate should be available to travel extensively spending part of his time in Belgium and part in Spain. He will also travel in Germany, Austria, Switzerland and France.

Please send your CV and motivation letter through the website mentioning "Logistics"
<http://www.labolife.com/es/trabaja-con-nosotros>