

Job Position at Rejuveron Senescence Therapeutics (RST)

Research assistant – Barcelona-based

Rejuveron Senescence Therapeutics (RST), is a start-up biotechnology company that develops therapies to eliminate senescent cells in a spectrum of diseases.

The company was founded in 2020 and has a lead program in oncology and early target identification initiatives in age-related diseases and oncology.

RST currently runs early discovery R&D operations out of the Barcelona Science Park (Parc Científic de Barcelona, PCB) and also has management and administrative presence in Zurich, Switzerland.

We are looking for:

A highly motivated Research Assistant to join the Early Target Discovery Program.

Key duties:

- Execute scientific experimentation needed to support the Discovery Program.
- Support in generating study designs, establish protocols for new methods and carry out experimentation in the laboratory.
- Report regularly to the R&D team.

Candidate Requirements:

- Bachelor's degree or master's degree in biology, biotechnology or related field.
- Hands-on laboratory experience (preferably in an industry setting).
- Essential: Experience in cell/molecular biology techniques, such as cell culture, KO cell line generation, flow cytometry, DNA-RNA extractions, PCR, immunohistochemistry, immunofluorescent microscopy.
- Desirable: Knowledge and experience in performing genetic and drug screenings.
- Ability to work on a team, under the guidance of senior scientists.
- Entrepreneurial mindset and goal driven with a desire to grow within the company.
- Ability to work in a fast-paced environment and deliver project milestones on time.
- Ability to multi-task across diverse projects.
- Fluency in English.

We offer:

- Full-time contract in an international environment with primary workplace in Barcelona.
- Salary package aligned with the experience of the candidate.
- Opportunity to learn skills across a broad range of activities within a startup biotech.
- Starting date: April 2023.
